Psalm 103

During the chanting of Psalm 103, the priest, standing before the closed royal doors, recites quietly the Prayers of Light.

Choir A: Bless the Lord, O my soul!* You are very great O Lord, my God;

Choir B: clothed in pomp and brilliance;* arrayed with light as with a cloak.

Stretching out the sky as a tent-cloth,* covering Your lofty halls with water.

You make the clouds Your conveyance.* You surge on the wings of the wind.

You make spirits Your messengers,* and flaming fires Your attendants.

You settle the earth on its firm foundation;* it shall stand unmoved from age to age.

The abyss covers it like a garment;* waters stand over the mountains.

At Your rebuke they will take flight;* at the peal of Your thunder they will fear.
They hurdle the hills and run down the dales,* to the place You have chosen for them.

You have set up a boundary not to be passed;* they shall never return to cover the earth.

Down in the gullies You make springs to rise;* water shall go down between the mountains

They shall give drink to the beasts of the field;* wild asses will seek them to quench their thirst.

The birds of the sky will abide by them;* from among the rocks they will raise their song.

From Your lofty halls You refresh the mountains;* the earth shall be fed with the fruit of Your works.

You make green pastures for the cattles* and food-plants for the service of all, so that bread may be brought forth from the earth,* and wine that gladdens the heart of man.

So that oil may put a gleam upon his face;* and that bread may strengthen the heart of all.

The trees of the plain will be satisfied,* the cedars of Lebanon that he planted. The sparrows will build their nests in them;* and the herons will call them their home.

To the deer belong high mountains,* to rodents, the shelter of the rocks.

You have made the moon to mark the seasons;* the sun knows the time of its setting.

You establish darkness, and it is night* wherein the forest creatures prowl around.

Young lions roar for their prey,* and call out to God for their meat.

As the sun rises, they will come together,* and lay themselves down in their dens.

Man will go out to his labour* and work until eventide.

How great are Your works, O Lord,* in wisdom You have wrought them all.

The earth is filled with Your creatures.* Even the wide and open sea itself,* within it there are countless creeping things,* living being small and large.

Upon it there are ships sailing,* and that great beast You made to have fun. All of them look up to You,* to give them their food in due time.

You provide and they gather up;* You open Your hand and they are full.
You hide Your face and they cringe;* you suspend their breath, and they die and return to their dust.

You send forth Your breath and they live;* You renew the face of the earth.
May the Lord's glory endure forever;* may the Lord rejoice in His works.

He looks upon the earth and makes it quake;* He touches the mountains and they smoke.

I will sing to the Lord as long as I live;* I will praise my God as long as I last.

Would that my thoughts be pleasing to Him;* and I will rejoice in the Lord.
May sinners vanish from the earth,* and may the wicked be no more.

Bless the Lord,* O my soul!

The sun knows the time of its setting.* You establish darkness, and it is night.

How great are Your works, O Lord,* in wisdom You have wrought them all.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit,
now and for ever and ever. Amen.

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!* Glory be to You, O God!

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!* Glory be to You, O God!

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!*

Together: Glory be to You, O God!

O Lord, I Have Cried to You (Psalm 140)

The deacon, having returned to in front of the altar, begins incensing the temple. If he so chooses, he may do a great incensation, which includes going clockwise around the people, and returning to finish with incensing the people once again from the solea.

The Evening Offering

Choir A: O Lord, I have cried to You, hear me; Hear me, O Lord! O Lord, I have cried to You, hear me; receive the voice of my prayer when I call upon You. Hear me, O Lord!

Choir B: Let my prayer rise like incense before You; the lifting up of my hands as an evening sacrifice. Hear me, O Lord.

Set a guard, O Lord, before my mouth* and a portal around my lips.

Incline my heart away from evil dealings,* from finding excuses for sinful deeds.

In company with those who work iniquity,* let me not partake of what they choose.

May the just chasten me with justice and reprove me;* may the oil of the wicked never touch my head.

Yet even then shall I pray for their welfare.* Their rulers were swallowed near the rock.

My words will be heard, for they were sweet.* As a lump of clay broken on the ground, so their bones were strewn new the grave.

To you, Lord, O Lord, my eyes are lifted up.* In you have I hoped; let not my soul be lost.

Keep me from the snare that was set for me,* and from the stumbling- blocks of the wicked.

The wicked shall fall into their own nets,* while I remain alone until I can escape.

With my voice I cried to the Lord;* with all my voice I am implored the Lord
Before Him I pour out my supplications;* before Him I declare my distress.

When my breath was escaping me,* then you knew my paths;
On the road upon which I was walking,* they set up snares for me.

I look to my right and observe* there was no one friendly to me;
Even flight was denied me;* there was no one to take care of my life.

I cried to you, O Lord, and said:* You are my hope,* my share in the land of the living.

Listen to my supplication,* for I am laid very low.

Deliver me from my oppressors,* for they have overwhelmed me.

(10) Lead my soul forth from prison* that I may give thanks to Your name.

(9) The just shall gather around me* when You have been Good to me.

(8) Out of the depths I cry to You, O Lord;* O Lord, hear my voice!

(7) Let Your ears be attentive* to the voice of my prayer.

(6) If You mark iniquities, Lord, who can stand?* But with You forgiveness is that You may be revered.

(5) I have waited for You as You have commanded; my soul patiently relies on Your promise,* for it has trusted in the Lord.

(4) From the morning watch until night* let Israel trust in the Lord.

(3) For with the Lord there is mercy, and with Him there is plentiful redemption;* and He shall redeem Israel from all its iniquities.

(2) Praise the Lord, all the nations;* proclaim His glory, all you people.

(1) Strong is the love of the Lord for us;* eternally will His truth endure.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit. Now and forever and ever. Amen.

Prayers of Light

1. O Lord, compassionate and loving, long-suffering and most merciful, hear our prayer and listen to the voice of our supplication. Make a favourable covenant with us, guide us along Your ways that we may live in Your truth, gladden our hearts that we may fear Your holy name; for You are great and You perform wondrous deeds. You are the only God and none other is like You, O Lord. You are great in mercy and able, in Your power, to assist, support, and save all those who place their hope in Your holy name; and to You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, is due all glory, honour, and adoration, now and ever and forever. Amen.

2. O Lord, in Your indignation do not rebuke us; in Your wrath do not chastise us; but deal with us according to Your loving-kindness. O Physician and Healer of our souls, guide us to the harbour of Your will; enlighten the eyes of our mind that we may know Your truth. Grant that the remainder of this day and all the days of our life may be peaceful and without sin, through the prayers of the holy Mother of God and through the prayers of all the Saints; for Yours is the might, and yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever. Amen.

3. O Lord our God, be mindful of us sinners, Your unworthy servants, as we call upon Your holy name, and put us not to shame for having placed our hope in Your mercy. Graciously grant us, O Lord, all the means of salvation; make us worthy to love and fear You with all our heart and to accomplish Your will in all things. For You are a gracious Lord and Your love mankind; and we give glory to You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever. Amen.

4. O Lord, You are praised by the holy Powers in hymns which are never silent, and in doxologies which never cease. Fill our mouths with Your praise that we may exalt Your holy name. Through the prayers of the holy Mother of God and the intercession of all Your Saints, give us a part and an inheritance with those who fear You in truth and who keep Your commandments. For to You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, is due all glory, honor, and adoration, now and ever and forever. Amen.

5. Blessed are You, O Lord, Almighty God. You know the mind of each person; You know what each needs even before they ask or are aware of it. Now, O King Who loves mankind and Who is gracious in everything, in Your great mercy allow us to call upon Your holy name with an unashamed conscience. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the Evil One; for to You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, is due all glory, honour, and adoration, now and ever and forever. Amen.

6. O Lord, O Lord, You hold all things together in Your spotless hands; You are longsuffering toward us all; You grieve at our wickedness. Remember Your compassion and mercy, and look down upon us in Your goodness. Grant that for the rest of this day we may escape from the manifold deceits of the Evil One; and keep our life free from every assault of the enemy, through the grace of Your All-holy Spirit. Grant this through the mercies and love for mankind of Your only-begotten Son with Whom You are blessed, together with Your all-holy, gracious, and life-giving Spirit, now and ever and forever. Amen.

7. O great and wonderful God, You govern all things with Your indescribable goodness and rich providence You have provided us with the goodness of this world and have assured us through Your kindness, of attaining the promised kingdom. O Lord, through all the blessings already received this day, You have kept us away from evil; grant that we spend its remaining hours without blame before Your holy glory, and that we may sing Your praise, O You, the only Gracious One Who loves mankind. For You are our God, and we send up glory to You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever. Amen.

8. O great and most high God, You alone are immortal and You dwell in a light which is unapproachable. You created all things in Your wisdom, dividing light from darkness, establishing the sun to govern the day and the moon and stars to rule the night. You have deemed us, poor sinners, worthy to reach this hour, to come into Your presence with our thanks, and to offer You our evening praise. O Lord Who loves mankind, let our prayers ascend to You as incense, and accept them as a sweet fragrance. Grant that this evening and the coming night may be spent in peace; clothe us with the armor of light; save us from the fears of the night and from things that lurk in darkness. Grant that the sleep You have given to refresh us from our fatigue may be free from every evil. Yes, O Lord and Giver of all good things, may we remember Your name throughout the night; and enlightened by the practice of Your commandments, may we rise in gladness of soul to praise Your goodness, offering prayers and supplications for our sins and those of Your people. Look down upon us with mercy, through the intercession of the Mother of God; for You are a gracious Lord Who loves mankind, and we glorify You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever. Amen.
